Printing Price Labels & Bin Tags

Print price labels and bin tags in Rundoo. Everything starts in POS → Products, and a bin tag is just the floor name for a price label.

THREE WAYS TO PRINT

1

One label

A smudged tag, a new SKU, a moved display.

Open the product → Print label

2

A whole batch

A shipment landed or a section needs refreshing.

Check rows → Print labels

3

After a price change

The one you'll reach for most.

Filter → Select all → Print labels

Print a batch in 3 steps

1. In POS → Products, Search or Filter to the items you want.
2. Check the row boxes (or Select all). A blue bar appears at the bottom.
3. Click Print labels, pick a template, set copies each, and Print.

What prints

Tier 1 retail price

Barcode is always on. A painter or custom price and your cost never print on a tag.

Reset labels is not "clear selection." It reprints the checked items with their last template and quantity, no window. To clear a selection, click Clear next to the count instead.

Print in Chrome, and match the template's label size to the roll you loaded, or tags come out sideways or shifted. Designing the tag itself is the next video, Design Your Own Label.
